

Mike Lindell Was Right About Election Fraud

By Linda Rantz, Author, Missouri Elections: Return to Hand Counting

The Myth: Mike Lindell is a Conspiracy Theorist

After the 2020 election, Mike Lindell was labeled a conspiracy theorist for claiming fraud, despite millions sharing his concerns. Critics dismissed him, citing CISA's November 12, 2020, statement that it was the "most secure election in history." But just 19 months later, CISA's June 2022 advisory revealed critical vulnerabilities in Dominion Voting Systems, undermining their earlier claim and validating Lindell's skepticism.

Finding: Mike Was Right—Elections Need Securing

Lindell's resolve led to my eManual's hand count process, inspired by his call to "melt voting machines into prison bars." His warnings were proven right: CISA faced scrutiny, with over 130 members let go in February 2025 for overreach in election security and misinformation policing. President Trump praised Lindell at CPAC 2025, saying, "He stood strong; nothing was going to faze him." Allies like Sherronna Bishop highlight Lindell's loyalty, noting his $2 million support for Clerk Tina Peters' defense and advocacy for election integrity nationwide.

Secure Elections with Hand Counting

Lindell's push for hand counting ensures transparency machines can't provide. My eManual offers tools to implement this, building on his vision to safeguard democracy.

Action for Elected Officials

Mike Lindell was right—elections need reform. Support hand counting to secure voting, as Lindell advocates. Explore the tools at ReturntoHandCounting.com/Tools to ensure transparent elections. For more, including Lindell's journey, scan the QR code, visit the hand count website, or email ContactUs@ReturntoHandCounting.com.

